Honorary Doctorate Degree in Education
(Educational Information Technology)

General Neang Phat graduated with a Bachelor of Laws from Royal University of Law and Economics, Master of Arts in Political Science from University of Cambodia, Master of Laws and Public Administration from Royal University of Law and Economics, and Doctor of Philosophy in Political Science from University of Cambodia. Currently, he is a Deputy Minister of Defense (Ministry of National Defense) Kingdom of Cambodia.

His social works include acting as co-policy maker of the Kingdom of Cambodia, being a representative of the Kingdom of Cambodia for national security and stability, and participated in the setting of policy on military security, politics, and diplomacy in national and international levels. For example, he was involved in negotiating world peace and published "The White Paper on National Defense" (Canberra, Newcastle and Sydney) in Australia. He also attended the Asia Security Summit in Singapore, represented Cambodia to formulate the political and security policies of Asian countries such as South Korea, and represented Cambodia on the ASEAN Summit on the South China Sea.

His relations with Rajamangala University of Technology Thanyaburi (RMUTT): contributed significantly to support and promotes the Royal Project to the Kingdom of Cambodia in education (Kampong Speu Institute of Technology and Kampong Chheuteal College) in cooperation with Rajamangala University of Technology Thanyaburi.

He has a successful career, recognized and honoured in military, political, diplomatic and educational security both in the Kingdom of Cambodia and in international level. He was appointed as a Deputy Minister of Defense (Ministry of National Defense) and also responsible for important functions like acting as an adviser to the Prime Minister, leader of ASEAN Defense Senior Officials Meeting, Secretary General of the Border Committee, Chairman of the ASEAN Military Committee of the Armed Forces of the Kingdom of Cambodia, and the Chairman of the working committee on border issues between Thailand and Cambodia. Hence, he is a key person who has always benefits to society and to the nation. Rajamangala University of Technology Thanyaburi Council conferred and awards the Honorary Doctorate Degree in Education (Educational Information Technology) as honour for his great contribution to the society.